

SEFARIA'S DAY SCHOOL PARTNERSHIP INITIATIVE— APPLICATIONS OPEN 2016-17

For the 2016-2017 school year, Sefaria seeks creative educators who are ready to innovate and are open to new ways of thinking about teaching and learning. We plan to include up to 10 day schools in this Initiative. Each school will need one or two lead educators who are committed to working closely with Sefaria over the course of the year. We invite you to read more and consider applying!

GOALS:

This initiative will enable us to experiment with Sefaria in the day school setting, to think through best practices of teaching with Sefaria, to change and improve pedagogy around Jewish texts, and to foster a more innovative spirit in the community of Jewish learners. We will explore the following questions:

1. What does Sefaria afford us in our teaching and learning that might be difficult or impossible without these tools?
2. What would it look like to create new forms of pedagogy for teaching Jewish texts in conjunction with the new medium we have for exploring these texts?
3. How can the teachers and learners of Jewish texts drive technological innovation that benefits our community? How can we nurture students who are creative in their learning, both inside and outside the classroom?
4. How can we leverage Sefaria's open source and open access platform to create a stronger culture of sharing in the world of Jewish education?

PARTNER EDUCATORS ARE EXPECTED TO:

- Be open to and excited about exploring the above questions, and ready to try new things in service of this exploration.
- Commit to using Sefaria in some sustained way throughout the school year. Free trainings will be provided to any interested educators and or/students at the partner institutions. Lead teachers must be trained by the end of July 2016.
- Communicate on a regular basis (by email, phone, and/or Sefaria's Facebook group) with the Sefaria team will allow Sefaria to receive rich feedback and will also mean that educators can benefit collectively from shared wisdom and experience.
- Produce at least one lesson plan, curriculum, or course activity that uses Sefaria to drive a piece of the class or curriculum. This piece will be shared by the end of the school year—first with other educators in the cohort, and eventually with the larger Sefaria community.

SEFARIA WILL PROVIDE:

- On demand tech and curricular support. Sefaria's Director of Education, Sara Wolkenfeld, will be available to train faculty and students in the use of Sefaria, help plan and craft course materials, and to connect educators with our engineer or content teams whenever necessary.
- $360 professional development budget (per school).
- Opportunity to influence the direction of product and feature developments on Sefaria
- On demand translator services for excerpts of texts that are currently not translated in Sefaria's library.
- Special access to new features on Sefaria.

If you have questions, please contact: sara@sefaria.org

For the application, click here: <https://goo.gl/MefXy6>